LASER POINTER

Under the South Australian Summary Offences Act 1953, hand held laser pointers with an output greater than 1 milliwatt are prohibited weapons. The legislation specifically recognises members of the Astronomical Society of South Australia as a class of people exempt from the prohibition but only when using a laser pointer for Astronomy.

To assist the police or other enforcement Agencies, astronomers must carry evidence of their current ASSA membership number at all times when the laser pointer is in their possession. Members should download the Guidelines for the Safe Use of Hand Held Laser Pointers in Astronomy from <http://www.assa.org.au/info/laserpointers>
